

The beginning of a river is called its "headwaters." The St. Johns River begins near Vero Beach in Indian River County and is formed by rain.